CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

HARDY WILD PONIES.

HOW THEY ARE CAPTURED AND TAMED ON SABLE ISLAND.

The Little Animals Are Toughened by the Severity of the Winters and Their Struggle to Procure Food—A Master Stallion Leads Each Gang.

Nature has thickened the coats of the wild ponies of Sable island and given the hair on them almost a woolly tendency. During the summer they fatten on the succulent grasses, and the first half of the winter they fairly hold their own, but the cold northeast winds and snows of March and April, when the polar ice surrounds the island, drive them clustering under the lee of the sand dunes, where they stay till too weak and chilled to move about in search of the scanty nourishment.

A year ago, after a ten days' stormy, sleepy spell, no less than six dead animals were found huddled in a nook behind some sand hills. During the winter of 1894, 64 wild ponies died from exposure and natural causes. Of course where there are several hundred horses—or people—no matter how well cared for, there will be a number of deaths. So we cannot put the whole 64 deaths down to "exposure and starvation." That winter began with 400 wild ponies on the island, and it was what the staff there called a "hard winter."

The sand permeating their food causes the teeth to wear away rapidly, so that old age and inability to eat sufficient come upon them sooner than with horses on the mainland. Their battles also, which, though not frequent, are fierce, and at times to the death, tend to increase the percentage of mortality.

They go in gangs of from 5 to 25, according to circumstances. Each gang has a master stallion, who is patriarch, father, defender. It was my privilege last March, when visiting the island, to see 11 gangs in one day when Superintendent Boutilier drove with me from the extreme eastern bar to the main station. We came within 20 or 30 yards of several gangs, but they moved independently away as we approached.

Catching and shipping them is an important and, to all the staff, an exciting incident. I witnessed it from the lookout platform of No. 4 station in the early gray of an October morning. Superintendent Boutilier roused me at dawn with the words, "They are driving in the first gang," and in a few minutes I was hastening from the house, some 200 yards, to the "lookout," whence I saw dark objects moving over the easterly hillocks. Soon could be distinguished nine wild ponies racing hither and yon, but kept well together and trending west by aid of 12 men on horseback (native ponies that seemed to enjoy the fun as much as the men on their backs) behind them, with long whips and stentorious voices.

A corral 22 yards in diameter, strongly inclosed, with a branch fence, extending from one side some 75 yards, made it not unlike a fish trap or weir, into which by judicious driving and heading the gang was safely lodged, and the riders were off for another gang of 12, which the boss had located, and which in an hour, despite most desperate efforts to break away, were all safely corralled with the first gang.

Then immediately began a battle between the two patriarchs, which I witnessed. Teeth, forefeet and heels, mingled with very positive squeals, were vigorously used. After awhile the weaker stallion fled into the crowd, and the victor's manner indicated his importance and foreshadowed his apparent doom, for the remark was made, "We'd better get that big fellow out, as he might hurt some one." So he was soon lassoed, thrown down, a Bonaparte bridle put in his mouth and a line to one foot, and then let up to dash out of the corral through the gateway purposely opened, dragging two of the boys who guided him to the beach for shipment.

Let me give the details: Four or five men enter the corral, and the horses cluster to the opposite side. Then one man throws a noose around the neck of one, and two men pull that beast out of the gang as the herds circle round near the inclosing fence.

The difficulty of breathing soon causes temporary weakness, and the horse falls, or is pushed down, when one man seizes his head, another the tail, and one jumps on his body to keep him from floundering. The boss puts the loop of a line into the horse's mouth and round his lower jaw, then up over his head and down through the loop in his jaw, so that by pulling the line a double purchase is brought on the mouth. This is a bonaparte bridle.

Such a purchase at the mouth with a line on a hind foot held by experienced men renders it impossible for the animal to go elsewhere than to the beach. When there, two sailors, holding the ends of a line several fathoms long, walk around him, folding the rope about his legs. Then by tightening this leg rope and holding firm his other fastenings the horse quickly falls and is held down by head and tail, while his legs are tied together with manilla brought from the ship. A layer or two of this soft rope lies between the feet, so that struggling does not cause abrasion. Then, helpless, the monarch lies broadside on the soft sand. The bridle is removed, the leg line, and the boys hurry back to the corral, a quarter of a mile away, for the fun of catching and bringing down another group.—Halifax Herald.

Repartee In the Menagerie.

"Did it ever occur to you," asked the Bactrian camel, "what an elegant shape you have for riding a wheel?"

"Did it ever occur to you," retorted the dromedary, to whom, it may be unnecessary to state, the previous question was addressed, "did it ever occur to you how well you would look on a tandem?"

And the two humped party to the foregoing discussion was forced to admit to himself that he rather got the worst of it.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Bible Courtship.

A young gentleman at church conceived a most sudden and violent passion for a young lady in the next pew, and felt desirous of entering into a courtship on the spot, but the place not suiting a formal declaration the exigency suggested the following plan: He politely handed his fair neighbor a Bible, open, with a pin stuck in the following text—second epistle of John, verse 5: "And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another." She returned it with the following—second chapter of Ruth, verse 10: "Then she fell on her face and bowed herself to the ground, and said unto him, why have I found grace in thine eyes, that thou shouldst take notice of me, seeing I am a stranger?" He returned the book, pointing to verse 12 of the third epistle of John, "Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink, but I trust to come unto you and speak face to face." From the above interview the marriage took place the coming week.—Scottish American.

Who Can Answer This Conundrum?

In the memoirs of Baron Stockmar is a note by his son, the editor of the work, in these words:

"There were not wanting instances of shamelessness against which he had to defend himself. A rich Englishman, an author and member of parliament, called upon him one day and promised to give him £10,000 if he would further his petition to the queen for a peerage. Stockmar replied: 'I will now go into the next room in order to give you time. If upon my return I still find you here I shall have you turned out by the servants.'"

Very creditable, of course, to Stockmar, considering his circumstances and position. The incident occurred in the early forties apparently, and there were not many rich Englishmen at that period who were both "authors and members of parliament." But I am not aware that anybody has as yet identified the would be corrupter of the immaculate baron. Who could he have been? And did he get his peerage in the end?—London World.

A Kentucky War Story.

An old Confederate soldier said recently: "I remember an occasion where a colored man, a body servant to General Forrest, saved his life. The general had broken two swords, and the servant rushed forward and handed him another to defend himself with. This occurred at Sacramento, a little village in McLean county, and the combat was with John Williams, the grandfather of John McIntire, the artist, who lived in Owensboro for some time. Mr. Williams was a gallant Federal soldier, who had served in the Mexican war and made a good fight. He fought so well that General Forrest paroled him and accompanied him to his home in the neighborhood and asked his wife to bind up his wound and care for him, saying that so brave a man deserved the best of care and attention."—Owensboro (Ky.) Inquirer.

An Early Betrothal.

In the early days of California the daughters of the Lugos were sought in marriage by the best families of the state. It was a boast that they were even courted in the cradle, as when the young officer, Colonel Ignacio Vallejo, being in San Luis Obispo on the occasion of the birth of a daughter to the Lugos, asked her father for the hand of the day old baby, provided when the time came to fulfill the contract the senorita should be willing. This seemingly absurd betrothal took place. The child grew up to be an intelligent as well as attractive young woman, married her betrothed and became the mother of many children, among them Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo.—Overland Monthly.

Portrait of Commodore MacDonough.

A recent addition to the portrait gallery of the navy department is a rare old oil portrait of Commodore MacDonough, the naval hero who rendered Perry valuable assistance in his memorable engagements on the lakes in the war of 1812. The portrait is the work of Jarvis and is owned by one of the old families of Charleston, S. C. Assistant Secretary McAdoo saw it on a recent visit to that city and brought it back with him to Washington with a view to its purchase by the government, as a companion piece to the portrait of Commodore Perry, now in the navy department gallery.—Washington Star.

Slow to Tumble.

She had now become desperate.

"Your family has a grand name," he observed.

"I would prefer almost any other," she rejoined with a promptness sufficient to suggest that she had given the subject thought.

After a time she sat as one in a trance, and wondered what would be the chances of his tumbling if a wheat elevator were to precipitate itself upon him.—Detroit Tribune.

A Handy Machine.

Customer—That is a queer looking wheel.

Bicycle Dealer—Latest thing out. Called the "Chicago tandem." You see, in case of a divorce it can be remodeled into two first class wheels at a very small cost.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Greatest Difficulty.

"What is the greatest difficulty you encounter in a journey to the arctic regions?" asked the inquisitive man.

"Getting back home," was the prompt reply of the professional explorer.—Washington Star.

At the Santa Caterina cathedral, Genoa, may be seen a crescent made of an emerald, which is eight inches between the points. Tradition says that it was a present from Solomon to Queen Sheba.

Gold Nuggets.

The structure of gold nuggets was the subject of a paper recently read before the New South Wales Royal society by Professor Liverbridge. Among other facts stated was the peculiarity of such nuggets, on being cut through or sliced and polished and then etched by chlorine water, of exhibiting a well marked crystalline structure closely resembling the figures shown by most metallic meteorites. On heating such nuggets in a Bunsen burner blebs or blisters form on both the polished and unpolished surfaces, and on still more strongly heating these in some cases burst with sharp reports, and pieces of gold are projected with considerable violence. As no explosions have been observed on dissolving or eating away the crusts of these blisters by chlorine water it is thought that the blebs may probably be due to the evaporization of some liquid or solid substance. Further, in slicing some nuggets, scattered granules of quartz were met with inside, although quite invisible outside. At first it was supposed that such explosions might be due to the quartz, but the gas in some instances continued to issue from the burst bleb—where the aperture formed was small—and forced the Bunsen flame out into lateral, just as if urged by a blowpipe.

The Samoan Mascot.

In time of war it is the tapo's duty to lead on to combat the warriors of her village, and she is often in the thick of the skirmishing, but should she be wounded or killed it is a pure accident, as the Samoans have the greatest horror of hurting a woman in any way, and would not even injure their enemy's tapo. There is a story told of how, during the war which was carried on in Upolu for a considerable time, five or six years ago, two armies had met and were drawn up, blazing into each other's lines, when a native woman appeared with a cow she wished to place in safety. The entire firing was immediately suspended on both sides till she and her charge had crossed the lines and were completely out of harm's way.

The women could rely so thoroughly on the gallantry of their countrymen that they had no fear during the fighting, and would take food to their husbands and brothers at any time, and pass through the ranks of the warriors of the belligerent army with perfect impunity; as long as the daylight lasted and they could be easily seen they were quite safe.—"In Stevenson's Samoa," Marie Fraser.

Engraving on Glass.

A most ingeniously contrived machine for engraving on glass, insuring the rapid and economic production of decorative work in that line, as also in metal manufactures of every variety, is described in The English Mechanic. Among the merits claimed for this device is the fact of there being no limit to the number of objects that may be operated upon simultaneously, with a perfect uniformity of workmanship, and further, the facility with which this machine, being of 12 multiplying power, can be operated upon and replaced with fresh objects, is another important characteristic, and three different patterns may be produced in one hour on a single machine. The construction of this apparatus fulfills the desideratum of great simplicity, it would appear; that is, the globes, or whatever is to be engraved, are fixed on platforms in two upright cylindrical forms, these platforms being raised or lowered as desired by means of a handle, and the engraving needles are applied or let off by a touch of the treadle—the pattern to be followed resting on a board at the back.

Where Franklin Flew His Kite.

Colonel Enoch Taylor of this city, speaking of the researches of the savants into the vagaries of lightning, remarked that probably there were few people who ever gave a thought when they crossed Spring Garden street in the vicinity of Thirteenth street that they were walking over the spot where Benjamin Franklin flew his kite. Yet such is the fact. A diagonal line from the southeast corner of what is now known as Thirteenth street to Spring Garden will about cover the space in which "Poor Richard" drew lightning from the clouds. It was a bare field then, with a few farms and country houses scattered around. Bostonians fondly imagine that it was on Boston Common Franklin conducted his experiments. That's a mistake. It was in the Quaker City and on the spot referred to.—Philadelphia Times.

Daudet.

M. Daudet, the eminent French author, was for a long time an usher in a second rate school on a pittance which scarcely sufficed to keep body and soul together. After a time he grew sick of this hard and unremunerative kind of work, and then made his way to Paris, where he arrived with only a capital of two shillings and a bundle of poems. He was fortunate enough to find a publisher for the latter almost at once, and it was not very long before he obtained journalistic employment, which kept him going until he found novel writing sufficiently lucrative to provide him with a living. Now he can command almost any price he likes to ask for his books and articles, and must be a very wealthy man.—Paris Letter.

Bill Nye and Paul M. Potter.

It will be pleasant to learn that Mr. Potter's next venture is to be in collaboration with Bill Nye. They are busy at work on a comedy, which, with Mr. Potter's cultured talent for dramatic construction and his experience in stage literature, Nye's crude and inexhaustible humor, his wit and philosophical turn, ought to be a great go.—Chicago News.

"For what reason?"

"He told her she was a better cook than his mother."—Detroit Free Press.

No "Three Estates of the Realm."

For all practical purposes there were only two estates in the English parliament, lords and commons. Thus the phrase of the three estates, which had a meaning in France, became meaningless in England. For centuries past there has been no separate estate of the clergy; some of their highest members have belonged to the estate of the lords and the rest to the estate of the commons. Hence has arisen a common but not unnatural misconception, as old as the long parliament, as to the meaning of the three estates.

Men constantly use those words as if they meant the three elements among which the legislative power is divided, king, lords and commons. But an estate means a rank, an order or class of men, like the lords, the clergy or the commons. The king is not an estate, because there is no class or order of kings, the king being one person alone by himself. The proper phrase is the king and the three estates of the realm. But in England, as I have already shown, the phrase is meaningless, as we have, in truth, two estates only."—E. A. Freeman's "Growth of the English Constitution."

Samuel J. Tilden's Umbrella.

Abram S. Hewitt, who was a great friend of Samuel J. Tilden, one day brought into his office an old cotton umbrella, with a broken rib or two and a few holes. It could not have cost over 50 cents. He placed it in the accustomed corner, beside a fine $10 silk umbrella belonging to J. L. Haigh, his partner. When starting home in the afternoon he walked off with Haigh's umbrella, leaving his own, which Haigh had to use, as it was raining hard. On opening the old cotton affair Haigh noticed a piece of white tape sewed on the inside near the top, and on going to a light read, "Samuel J. Tilden, Gramercy park, New York." The next day he returned it to the same corner and said to Mr. Hewitt, "This is Mr. Tilden's umbrella you forgot last night." "Oh, yes," said Hewitt, rising and going after it, "I am very glad to get it back. Mr. Tilden is extremely careful about his umbrella." "But where is my silk one that you took away last night?" Haigh asked. "Oh, I don't know anything about that," was the reply, and that was all the satisfaction that Haigh ever got.—New York Press.

The Nervy Barber.

I struck a nervy barber down in southern California once. You know they have earthquakes down there so often that they don't mind a terrestrial shake up any more than we do a thunderstorm. But for strangers the sensation of having the earth do a sand jig under you is far from pleasant. It makes you lose confidence in the stability of things.

I was sitting in a barber's chair one day when the windows began to rattle and the floor to heave like the deck of a ship. The barber was a dago of some kind, but he had nerve. I started to jump and run, but he held my head down firmly and said:

"Seet pairfectly still, senor, or I might have ze meesfortune to cut you."

And, ding me, if he didn't keep right along shaving, with the shanty rocking like a cradle, and he never even scratched me. But it scared me so my beard hasn't grown well since.—Washington Post.

Sunshine and Disease.

It is rather surprising to be told that sunshine is not always a promoter of health, and that London fog may be a blessing in disguise. In experiments by De Renzi guinea pigs inoculated with tuberculosis died after 24 to 89 days when kept in glass boxes in the sunshine, but survived only 20 to 41 days in opaque wooden boxes. This makes it evident that sunshine is a material aid in combating consumption. In a later investigation by Dr. Masella, however, guinea pigs were inoculated with cholera and typhoid bacilli respectively, when it was found that previous exposure to sunshine increased the susceptibility to both diseases, while exposure to sunshine after infection so accelerated the progress of the malady that death occurred in 3 to 5 hours instead of 15 to 24 hours. That this was not due to increase of temperature was proved by cooling the boxes in sunshine by a circulation of water.—London Letter.

Outdoor Work Preferred.

Some years ago a young Irishman was hunting for work among the farmers of a western town at harvest time.

He made his application to a benevolent looking farmer, who was attracted by the young man's frank, merry face, but was not really in need of extra help.

"Can you cradle?" he asked, after a moment's hesitation.

"Cradle, is it?" repeated the young Irishman in bewilderment. "That Oi can, sorr, bein the owldest av 11 childern, but," he added persuasively, "couldn't yez give me a job out av dures, sorr?"—Youth's Companion.

Ambitions.

"My hair," remarked the baldheaded man as he rubbed his bare poll in a reminiscent way, "was the most ambitious thing about me."

"Ah?" responded his companion questioningly.

"Yes; it always came out on top."—Detroit Free Press.

A Faithful Servant.

A Hero's Experience—"Don't Shoot, We are all Ladies!"—Other Items.

Mrs. A. E. Gibson has been quite ill the past week.

The thermometer stood at 100 degrees last Wednesday.

Willie H. Hilton is attending school at Burlingame, San Mateo county.

The late rains have greatly improved the county roads in this vicinity.

Martin Peter has commenced crushing grapes and will make considerable wine this year.

Regli Brothers, for many years on the Kohler farm, have taken up their residence in Napa.

N. R. Hansen has opened a grocery store and saloon at Tiburon. Mr. Ed. Larenzen has purchased Mr. Hansen's interests here.

Trippers of the light fantastic are anxiously looking forward to the dance at Kenwood, September 28th, and the masquerade at the Mervyn Hotel, October 5th.

There is some talk of making permanant improvements on the county road leading to the Home. Washouts and slides occur on this road every winter, rendering it impassable for months at a time.

A party of ladies, escorted by Mr. J. W. who is noted for his bravery and lack of fear, visited a certain vineyard (by permission) in this vicinity in the still hours of the night last week. The party started off merrily in quest of and hungry for grapes with no thought of the terrible experience soon to follow. They had reached the vineyard and were haying a jolly feast when three sharp reports of a rifle rang out not ten feet away, accompanied by an urgent request to leave the premises at once. The ladies, of course, screamed, as they usually do in such cases, and our hero was heard to remark as he fell headlong over a years' growth of grape-vine: "Don't shoot; we are all ladies!" All hands made the trip home at a gait that would surprise Sonoma's champion bicycle rider. How about that Jack?

Swept by a Cyclone

Of approbation to the pinnacle of popularity, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has acquired a commanding position, which has occasionally made it a bright and shining mark for knaves, who seek to foist upon the community spurious compounds in the guise akin to that of the real article. These are mostly local bitters or tonics of great impurity, and, of course, devoid of medicinal efficacy. Beware of them and get the genuine Bitters, a real remedy for malaria, rheumatism, kidney trouble, dyspepsia, nervousness, constipation and biliousness. Physicians of eminence everywhere commend the great invigorant, both for its remedial properties and its purity. A wineglass thrice a day will soon bring vigor and regularity to a disordered and enfeebled system.

Black wine grapes are being contracted for from $12 to $16. The white varieties vary between $7 and $10.

NOTICE

TO TAX-PAYERS!

Having received from the City Clerk the Assessment Roll for the year 1895, notice is hereby given:

First—That in the City of Sonoma for the year 1895, the taxes on all personal property secured by real property, and one-half the taxes on real property will be due and payable on the First Monday in October, 1895, and will be delinquent on the Third Monday in November, 1895, at 6 o'clock P. M., and that unless paid prior thereto fifteen per cent. will be added to the amount thereof, and that if said one-half be not paid before the First Monday in February next at 6 o'clock P. M., an additional five per cent. will be added thereto.

Second—That the remaining one-half of the taxes on all real property will be payable on or after the First Monday of January next, and will be delinquent on the First Monday in February thereafter at 6 o'clock P. M., and that unless paid prior thereto five per cent. will be added to the amount thereof, and that liens on the property assessed will attach after the First Monday in March at 6 o'clock P. M., for the non-payment of the taxes due on any installment of the same.

Third—That all taxes may be paid at the time the first installment as above specified is due and payable.

I shall be at the Pavilion on Saturdays from 9 to 12 A. M., and from 2 to 5 P. M., to collect said tax and render receipts therefor. The rate is 30 cents on the $100 of taxable property. J. EUGENE ROBIN,

Tax Collector.

LARGE WINE SALE.

Seventy-five Thousand Gallons at Fifteen Cents per Gallon.

On Monday last Judge Slack of the Superior Court, San Francisco, gave the administrators of the estate of the late Senator Fair permission to sell 75,000 gallons of red wine, vintage of 1893, at 15 cents per gallon. The purchasers are Lenormand Brothers. The wine is at present stored on the Fair ranch near this place.

Nevada Steers.

Henry Hartin, proprietor of the Central Market, received last Tuesday two car loads of Nevada steers. The animals, numbering thirty-six, are fine specimens of beef cattle.

Bicycle Race.

A five-mile race will be run over the Sonoma bicycle race track between Frank Burris and Eugene Donaldson on Sunday, October 6th. The race promises to be an exciting one as both riders are possessed of speed and have good staying qualities..

Ran a Nail into His Foot.

On Friday of last week A. B. Robinson, a carpenter employed on Dresel's new building, stepped on a large nail which was forced nearly through the foot. The wound bled profusely and the man lost a large quantity of blood before the foot ceased bleeding. He was taken to his home in Napa and placed under the care of a physician.

Attention.

Prof. Heymann, the eye specialist and optician from Germany, will be at the Union Hotel, Sonoma, beginning Monday, October 7th, for one week, where he will treat, free of charge, all diseases of the eye. The professor will be in Sonoma regularly once a month and the public is kindly asked to consult him before accepting any kind of treatment. The permanent office and residence of the professor is at San Jose, California, where he has earned an enviable reputation as a high skilled oculist. *

California Lion.

A large panther, or California lion, has been prowling about the Dresel farm the past week. He made his first appearance several nights ago and created quite a commotion with his cries. He was frightened off before doing any damage to the stock on the place. These animals, which years ago were quite numerous in the mountains surrounding the valley, are seldom seen these days. The one which paid the midnight visit to the Dresel place is supposed to be the same animal which was seen on the Gildersleeve place at the head of Brown's Valley a few years ago.

A Wild Hog Hunt.

This afternoon a party of hog hunters leave for Mount Hood for a two days' hunt. They will camp out in order to be on the grounds early and get a cold sneak on the game. A large supply of ammunition and edibles will be taken along. No liquids will be allowed in camp and provision will be made for snake bites only. Five or six fine hog hounds will complete the outfit. Among those who will join in the chase will be Jim Shaw of Kenwood, U. S. Bonded Warehouse Keeper C. L. Carbone and Nick Carbone of Napa, J. L. Farnsworth and H. H. Granice.

A Deer Astray.

One day last week Mr. A. T. Lewis, owner of the Nick Carriger place, a few miles west of Sonoma, had his attention attracted to the wild antics of two of his horses which were rushing madly about a five or six-acre pasture a short distance from his dwelling. Upon approaching the field he discovered a large buck which had strayed out of the mountains into the pasture and his intrusion was being resented by the horses which were chasing and trying to drive the deer out of the field. Securing his rifle Mr. Lewis took two or three shots at the buck, but the gun being an old one he missed his mark, and the deer with mighty bounds cleared two or three high fences and disappeared in the mountains beyond. It is said deer are more plentiful in this valley this season than for many years past, and one or two are killed every week within three or four miles from town.

LON PERKINS.

Return of the Well-Known and Successful Seal Hunter.

Lon Perkins, one of the best, most sought-after and successful seal hunters on the Pacific Coast, is back in Sonoma again after an absence of eight months on a sealing voyage off the coasts of California and Oregon. Lon appears to bear a charmed life. He has escaped shipwreck and came off victorious in more than one desperate encounter with the white Polar bears of the far north. Two years ago he was on the schooner Lizzie Ladd, sealing off the coast of Japan. With his usual good luck he escaped shipwreck that memorable year when eleven schooners in the sealing service went to the bottom off that treacherous coast and 160 lives were lost. Most of the unfortunate men were companions at one time or another of Mr. Perkins in his many voyages after seal and otter.

His last voyage was made on the schooner Kate Lang and was a most successful one for both the owners of the vessel and the hunters who accompanied her. Lon shot on this trip 491 seal, 32 otter and two black bears. The skins of the latter he has had dressed by Ladd & Co. of San Francisco. They were killed with a double-barreled No. 8 shot gun.

On this voyage Mr. Perkins with his companions on the Kate Lang had a narrow escape from being blown into Davy Jones' locker. A careless hunter, by some means or another, ignited a 25-pound keg of powder and a terrific explosion followed. The deck of the schooner was blown completely out and great confusion reigned on board. Several men were badly injured and for a time it looked as though the little craft would go to the bottom. With his usual good luck Lon escaped with a bad shaking up and being a ship carpenter was able, when he got his breath, to repair the damage sufficiently to enable the schooner to be navigated into a port several hundred miles away where she was again made seaworthy.

In his twenty years' experience as a seal hunter Mr. Perkins has passed through many thrilling experiences, but some how or another he always manages to return to Sonoma right side up with care after each voyage.

An Official Visit.

Robert A. Poppe and Robert P. Hill were at Santa Clara and San Jose on Sunday and Monday of this week to look into the affairs of the old property formerly occupied by the Institution for the Feeble Minded. The property consists of 51 acres and is very valuable, a portion being planted to fruit trees and vines. Land in the neighborhood is worth from $400 to $500 per acre. Both of the gentlemen were much pleased with San Jose and Santa Clara, especially with reference to the streets and roads. The roads are sprinkled every day a distance of ten miles around San Jose, and the streets are paved with bituminous rock. The old institution buildings are in good repair and are in charge of John T. Peters, formerly of Sonoma.

That's What.

Every newspaper treasures up in its memory the names of its friends and likewise its enemies. It never overlooks the opportunity to assist the former, but never tries to aid the latter. Human nature is the same everywhere. People who show a newspaper man kindness never make a better investment or one that will more surely repay them a hundred-fold sooner or later. As it has been truly said: "There occasionally comes a time in the life of every man when a word said by a newspaper either makes or unmakes the individual mentioned."—Central Californian.

The Central Market.

The advertisement of the Central Market appears in another column. The proprietor, Mr. Henry Hartin, is an experienced butcher and keeps his market supplied at all times with the choicest of meats, fruits, vegetables and dairy products. In this respect this market will compare favorably with the markets of San Francisco.

Warm Weather and Grapes.

The weather the past few days has been phenomenally warm for September, the thermometer registering between 90 and 100 degrees in the shade on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The warm spell has been very beneficial to grapes and an excellent quality of wine will be made this year.

Last August while working in the harvest field I became overheated, was suddenly attacked with cramps and was nearly dead. Mr. Cummings, the druggist, gave me a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which completely relieved me. I now keep a bottle of the remedy handy. A. M. Bunnell, Centerville, Wash. For sale by all dealers.

LACHMAN VS. STEIGER.

The Damage Suit Appealed to the Superior Court.

The damage suit instituted in Justice Cheney's court in this place several months ago by Mrs. Mary J. Lachman against Edward Steiger to recover the sum of $299.99 damages for alleged injuries sustained by plaintiff at the hands of defendant in March last has been appealed to the Superior Court by Mrs. Lachman. One day during that month Mr. Steiger visited his Schellville ranch which had been leased to the Lachmans, for the purpose of collecting rent long overdue. The madam, whose husband was absent at the time, when she saw the old man approaching warned him off the premises. Angry words were exchanged and the belligerents came together with a crash, and if the stories of witnesses pro and con are to be believed the air was soon filled with flying frizzes, whiskers and hair. Shortly after hostilities ceased Constable Charley Ohm made his appearance on the scene and it is said, although we do not vouch for the truthfulness of the story, distinguished himself by collecting with the aid of a horse-rake almost a gunny sack full of evidence in the shape of bangs and spit-curls, intermingled with which were a few stray hairs from Steiger's beautiful whiskers and a switch from the caudal appendage of a muley cow.

The next day Mrs. Lachman had Steiger arrested charged with battery, and he was subsequently fined $40 by Judge Cheney. Following came the damage suit, which was likewise tried by him and he gave judgment in favor of Steiger. It is from the latter decision than an appeal is taken to the higher court. T. J. Butts is attorney for appellant and Fred. T. Duhring will represent Mr. Steiger.

The Nordin Suit.

The Agua Caliente Springs property is still tied up and in the hands of receiver Cady, and the prospects of an amicable adjustment between husband and wife in their foolish litigation is about as remote as ever. It is the general opinion in this valley that if Dr. and Mrs. Nordin do not settle their differences out of court it is only a question of time when litigation will disposses them of all their property. Verily, "whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad."

The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

When people are obliged to take medicine they want it to give quick relief and not add discomfort to their sufferings. Three reasons why people who suffer with Constipation and Biliousness should take Simmons Liver Regulator: "It is better than pills, it does not gripe; it gives quick relief, and does not weaken but strengthens and refreshes the whole system."—J. PERSONAL AND SOCIAL---OTHER MATTERS.

[Contributed by Marjorie Dow.]

Items of a personal and social nature are thankfully received at this office and will be edited by Marjorie Dow.

Mrs. Cornelius was a passenger on the south bound train last Wednesday morning.

B. P. Norris took Wednesday's south bound train for San Francisco.

Wm. Wyatt visited Petaluma last Sunday.

If, on the occasion of your first call, the girl upon whom you have placed your young affection looks like an iceberg and acts like a cold wave, take your leave early and stay away. Woman in her hours of freeze is uncertain, coy and hard to please.

Mrs. Chas. McHarvey returned from San Francisco last Monday evening after a visit of several days.

John Ludeman of Santa Rosa was in town last Sunday.

Do not fail to read the announcement of the eye specialist from Germany.

Charcoal is a wonderfully useful article to feed to poultry. It acts on the blood and tones it up, the results of which are readily noticeable in the bright color of the comb and wattles, and activity displayed by the chicken itself.

The Young Mens' Institute of Sonoma will give a grand ball at Union Hall on Thanksgiving eve.

The services of the Episcopal Church will be held at Union Hall, in this place, at 11 A. M. on Sunday. The Holy Communion will be celebrated and a sermon preached by the Rev. J. Hulme. All are cordially invited and will be heartily welcomed.

Nothing is better for a sore throat than a gargle of salt and water. It may be used as often as desired, and if a little is swallowed each time it is used it will cleanse the throat and allay the irritation.

J. R. Watson of Guerneville passed through town last Sunday.

H. Lipman of San Francisco was in town Thursday.

Ranald McDonell and Dick Long visited Lakeville last Wednesday.

"I want a bow," said a lady to a clerk in a dry goods store. The clerk, desiring to do something smart, drew himself up and said: "I'm at your service, ma'am." "Yes," said the lady, eyeing him disapprovingly, "but I want a white, not a green one." The clerk went to measuring tape immediately.

Dr. H. H. Davis, who has been ill for the past week at his home on Broadway, is improving.

W. B. Thomas spent several days of this week in the metropolis.

Robt. Pasch, who has been clerking for S. Schocken the past four years, will retire and start in business for himself. Mr. Pasch has made many friends in Sonoma who will greatly miss him. However all wish him much success in his new venture.

A fruit dish that will tempt the appetite of an invalid—and, of course, anybody else—is peach foam. Put a cupful of fine peaches (cut into small bits after peeling) in a bowl with half a cup of powdered sugar and the white of one egg. Beat with a silver fork until you have a creamy, velvety mass, which will take about half an hour. Chill in the refrigerator and serve. Whipped cream should always be served with sliced peaches to hide the discolorations that cannot be prevented.

Wednesday afternoon was most enjoyably spent by a number of friends at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Stevenot in the western suburbs of Sonoma. The time was spent in social conversation, vocal and instrumental music. Among those that contributed to the entertainment was Miss McGill of San Francisco, a brilliant pianist and a highly accomplished young lady. Tea was prepared at a proper hour and all who partook of the refreshments served were more than pleased at the hospitalty of Mrs. Stevenot and her daughters.

Inez Reed, the little nine-year old daughter of station agent Reed, entertained a number of her little playmates in honor of her birthday last Monday at her parents home on Broadway.

Where the hair is dry and brittle with a tendency to fall out, an English restorative is the simple one of a free application of pure cocoanut oil with daily brushing.

Dr. D. G. Atwood visited the metropolis Saturday.

Clothespins boiled a few minutes and quickly dried, once or twice a month, become more durable.

Rev. Mr. Chase christened the infant children of H. Matson and J. Johnson last Sunday.

J. P. McDonell of the Sebastopol Times was in town last Sunday.

D. M. Eschbach took Sunday's train for the metropolis.

Pineapple lemonade is delicious also. To slice a pine apple is to offend the gods. Get the peel off and then shred the fruit with a stout silver fork.

Robt. A. Poppe, one of the Directors of the California Home, visited Agnew's, Santa Clara county, several days this week on official business.

Grapes should be dipped in ice water two or three times and drained quite dry before serving. It is better to wash them over-night if designed for breakfast.

Miss Mary Burke, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Burke, is attending the University at Berkeley.

Mrs. Carrie Burlingame has returned to her home in San Francisco after a several weeks' visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. Appleton.

T. Monahan visited Sonoma friends last Sunday.

Miss Mamie Stevenot has returned from a very pleasant visit with San Francisco friends.

Be careful where you keep flour. Like butter, it absorbs odors readily.

Pure, fresh, cold water is one of the most valuable disinfectants, inasmuch as it is a powerful absorbent. Every sick room should have a large vessel of clear water, frequently renewed, placed near the bed, or even beneath it. This not only absorbs much of the hurtful vapor, but by its evaporation it softens and tempers the atmosphere, doing away with the dryness which is so trying and depressing to an invalid, or even to persons in health, for that matter. It has frequently been shown, by actual experiment, that troubled sleep and threatened insomnia are corrected by so simple a thing as the placing of an open bowl of water near the sufferers' head.

Prof. R. M. Sims, Vice-Principal of Sonoma High School, attended the party given at Society Hall, Santa Rosa, on Friday evening of last week.

Luther Burris of Santa Rosa visited Sonoma relatives last Sunday.

Granulated sugar is an abomination on fruit; use powdered sugar and sift it before sending it to the table.

All fruit looks nicer on delicate, light china. A few leaves in the fruit dish add wonderfully to the effect upon the eyes, and the eyes coax the appetite when nothing else will.

Merry games, social converse, appetizing refreshments and a large crowd was the order of the evening last night at the church social held at the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Dunn, in the southeastern suburbs of Sonoma.

The committee having in charge the Hard Times Party which will be held in Mervyn Hall, Glen Ellen, next Saturday evening, are making every exertion to have all those who attend enjoy themselves. Extra good music has been engaged and the fact that the party will be held in the hotel will insure every comfort to those who participate. It will only cost 49 cents to attend with your sweetheart, "your sisters, your cousins and your aunts."

Superintendent of Schools Davis was in town last Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. S. A. Kell, of Pomona, Cal., had the bad luck to sprain her ankle. "I tried several liniments," she says, "but was not cured until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. That remedy cured me and I take pleasure in recommending and testifying to its efficacy." This medicine is also of great value for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the chest, pleurisy and all deep-seated and muscular pains. For sale by all dealers.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, SEPT. 28, 1895.

Bicycle Etiquette.

Here are some rules laid down by an authority on bicycle etiquette: "In mounting the gentleman who is accompanying a lady holds her wheel; she stands on the left side of the machine and puts her right foot across the frame to the right pedal, which at the time must be up; pushing the right pedal causes the machine to start and then with the left foot in place the rider starts ahead—slowly at first, in order to give her cavalier time to mount his wheel, which he will do in the briefest time possible. When the end of the ride is reached, the man quickly dismounts and is at his companion's side to assist her, she, in the meantime, assisting herself as much as possible. This is done—that is, dismounting—in the most approved style by riding slowly, and when the left pedal is on the rise the weight of the body is thrown on it, the right foot is crossed over the frame of the machine, and with an assisting hand the rider easily steps to the ground. In meeting a party of cyclists who are known to each other and desire to stop for a parley it is considered the proper thing for the men of the party to dismount while in conversation with the ladies. As to the furnishings of the bicycle, to be really swagger, it must be fitted out with a clock and a bell, luggage carrier and a cyclometer, the latter being an absolute sine qua non to the woman who cares for records."

She Preferred the Earth.

If the girls were only as bright when they grow up as in their childhood days what a race of brilliant women there would be. One especially cute youngster has a way of saying some unusually clever things, and great hopes for her future are entertained by her family. She was quite ill recently, and her mother tried to impress upon her the delights of heaven, even being unorthodox enough to suggest an unlimited number of tricycles in the blessed abode, as one of these was the desire of the small girl's heart and the devoted mother thought to make heaven more attractive by the introduction of these rather mundane charms, yet the small invalid did not seem to be enchanted at the prospect of a speedy demise, even with a tricycle as a reward of her well doing.

At last her mother inquired why she didn't want to be a lovely fluffy angel, with a tricycle whenever she wished to ride out through the golden streets, and the practical small maiden rather astonished the expounder of heavenly joys by replying, "Well, you see, mamma, I'm better acquainted here."—Philadelphia Times.

Kentucky Camp Meetings.

A writer claims that camp meetings originated in Kentucky in the year 1800 at Gasper River church, in Logan county, and became established during the great Kentucky revival early in the century. It is claimed that both Presbyterians and Methodists participated in the earlier meetings, through the camp meeting is now looked upon as distinctly a Methodist institution. The great revival is one of the curious things in Kentucky history, and its effects are still visible in other things besides camp-meetings, granting these religious open air gatherings to have had the origin attributed to them. Something of the spirit of the old camp meetings yet survives in the "holiness meetings," but the camp meeting has in this time developed some varities that have no kinship with the godliness and religious fervor that swept the western country when Kentucky was yet an infant common wealth.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

It is said that Bismarck derives an annual income of $175,000 from various industries in which he is interested.

KIDNEY.

E. W. JOY COMPANY—Gentlemen: I have suffered from kidney trouble for two or three years. I would have to get up in the night to void my urine from ten to fifteen times. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

MISCELLANEOUS. MISCELLANEOUS.

What is
CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

$1800.00
GIVEN AWAY TO INVENTORS.

$150.00 every month given away to any one who applies through us for the most meritorious patent during the month preceding.

We secure the best patents for our clients, and the object of this offer is to encourage inventors to keep track of their bright ideas. At the same time we wish to impress upon the public the fact that such as the "car-window" which can be easily slid up and down without breaking, the passenger's back, "sauce-pan," "collar-button," "mucilock," "bottle-stopper," and a thousand other little things that most any one can find a way of improving; and these simple inventions are the ones that bring largest returns to the author. Try to think of something to invent.

IT IS NOT SO HARD AS IT SEEMS,

Patents taken out through us receive special notice in the "National Recorder," published at Washington, D. C., which is the best newspaper published in America in the interests of inventors. We furnish a year's subscription to this journal, free of cost, to all our clients. We also advertise, free of cost, the invention each month which wins our $150 prize, and hundreds of thousands of copies of the "National Recorder," containing a sketch of the winner, and a description of his invention, will be scattered throughout the United States among capitalists and manufacturers, thus bringing to their attention the merits of the invention.

The Sonoma House, Chas. Stein proprietor, is a popular resort for commercial travelers. *

Origin of the Tomato.

The English word of direct Indian origin most frequently in use is tomato. A native of tropical or subtropical America, it was cultivated by the subjects of the Incas and Montezumas, as well as by the other semicivilized natives, long before the advent of Europeans on this hemisphere, under the name of tumatl or tomatl. Though introduced into Europe almost as early as its congener, the potato, it is only lately that it has made its way into popular favor. There it was first known to the English as love-apple, to the French as pomme d'amour and to the Italians as pomi d'amore, and these names are still in use, perpetuating the old, widespread notion that its use as food had an influence on the amatory passions.—Rural New Yorker.

Didn't Understand.

In the days of the old schoolship Massachusetts a Sunday visitor once addressed the sailor boys on board in what he probably thought was an effective manner. The next day in the school the question was asked, "What did you learn from the remarks of Mr. X. yesterday?" To the surprise of the teacher one boy gave this answer, "I learned that he was talking about two things that he did not seem to understand, sir—navigation and religion, sir."—Boston Advertiser.

She Couldn't Wait.

Lady—I'm sorry your mamma is out, my pet, for I wanted very much to see her, and I can't remain until she returns. She has gone shopping, I presume?

Little Pet—No; she's gone to make sixty-five calls.

Lady—Oh, is that all. Then I'll wait.

Settled at Last.

The old question as to whether the upper part of a carriage wheel in motion moves faster than the lower part seems to have been definitely settled by instantaneous photography, which shows the top spokes indistinct, the bottom clear cut and well defined.—St. Louis Republic.

Why Tea Is Dangerous.

No people in the world drink so much tea or so often as the Japanese, and Europeans in Japan easily fall into the same habit. No word is ever heard of its being injurious or a source of indigestion, but that is because they take care not to extract the tannin from the tea leaves and we take great care to do so. That is why we say persons who live on tea and bread and butter have weak digestions.—British Medical Journal

Mrs. E. E. Davis, of San Miguel, Cal., says: "I am trying in a measure to repay the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the great good their remedy has done me. For years I was a constant sufferer from weak lungs and bronchial asthma. My rest at night was disturbed by a hacking cough, so that I felt miserable the greater part of the time. Many remedies recommended by friends were tried, none of which proved suitable to my case. I did not experience any beneficial results until I began taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After two bottles of the large size have been used I am pleased to state, my health is better than it has been for years. The soreness has left my lungs and chest and I can breathe easily. It has done me so much good that I want all who are suffering from lung troubles, as I was, to give it a trial." For sale by all dealers.

PRICKLY ASH, POKE ROOT AND POTASSIUM
Makes Marvelous Cures in Blood Poison Rheumatism and Scrofula

P. P. P. purifies the blood, builds up the weak and debilitated, gives strength to weakened nerves, expels diseases, giving the patient health and happiness where sickness, gloomy feelings and lassitude first prevailed.

For primary secondary and tertiary syphilis, for blood poisoning, mercurial poison, malaria, dyspepsia, and in all blood and skin diseases, like blotches, pimples, old chronic ulcers, tetter, scald head, boils, erysipelas, eczema—we may say, without fear of contradiction, that P. P. P. is the best blood purifier in the world, and makes positive, speedy and permanent cures in all cases.

Ladies whose systems are poisoned and whose blood is in an impure condition, due to menstrual irregularities, are peculiarly benefited by the wonderful tonic and blood cleansing properties of P. P. P.—Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.

SPRINGFIELD, MO., AUG. 14th, 1893.—I can speak in the highest terms of your medicine from my own personal knowledge. I was affected with heart disease, pleurisy and rheumatism for 35 years, was treated by the very best physicians and spent hundreds of dollars, tried every known remedy within reach, but found relief only when I got your P. P. P. I have only taken one bottle of your P. P. P., and can cheerfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I can recommend your medicine to all sufferers of the above diseases.

Female Weaknesses.

Many beautiful women die in the very prime of life. Others live to middle age, but are seldom sound and healthy. Why is this you ask? We answer SELF NEGLECT, but your life can be lengthened and home made happy if you commence AT ONCE. Try one package of Parks Vaginal Suppositories and you will never regret it. They will make a new woman of you and will absolutely cure all the distressing forms of female weaknesses. NO EXPERIMENT. No doctors' examination. A positive cure. Leucorrhea and whites are usually entirely cured by one or two applications. Price $1.00 per package by mail prepaid. Particulars (sealed) 2c,
